Subject: Invitation to attend
International Conference on Next Generation Libraries (NGL 2019) to held during December 12-14, 2019 at NIT Rourkela, India

Greetings from NIT Rourkela!

Dear Sir/Madam,

It gives us immense pleasure to inform you that Biju Patnaik Central Library (BPCL) of National Institute of Technology Rourkela is organizing the "International Conference on Next Generation Libraries" during December 12-14, 2019 in association with SLA-Asia, IFLA-Asia and Oceana and United National India.

This conference is the seventh event under the series "Empowering Library Professionals to Empower Society (ELPES)". In this international conference, library professionals from different regions of the world will discuss how Next Generation Libraries (NGL) can be useful for the library users. This consortium will focus on themes such as (a) New Trends & Technologies, (b) Collaboration & Community engagement, and (c) Future Librarianship, Library Spaces & Services.

The main objectives of this conference are:
- To identify and discuss with intellectuals about new trends and technologies
- To have collaboration and community engagement with educational institutions to share knowledge and resources
- To understand the role of future librarians in next generation libraries era
- To examine the challenges and solutions faced by the academic libraries which can be useful for the library policy makers to frame policies to provide value added services to its users.

We request you to depute your colleagues to participate and contribute a paper for this conference. And also help us to spread this message among library & information science professionals, information scientists, knowledge managers, students & scholars. Kindly register at the earliest to avail campus accommodation as we have limited number of rooms available.
