70th Independence Day Celebration at NIT Rourkela

NIT Rourkela celebrated 70th Independence Day. India's Independence Day is more than a day to celebrate the success of our democracy. It's truly a time for the Indians worldwide to reflect and take pride in ourselves. We have brought this country so far and yet so close to what our forefathers had dreamed it to be. We salute our ancestors, freedom fighters, scientists, leaders and the very people who contributed to the success of India. Source: Monday Morning

Librarian's Day Celebration

BPCL celebrated the Dr. S. R. Ranganathan 124th Birth Anniversary on 12th August, 2016. Siyali (at present, Sirkazhi) Ramamrita Ranganathan (August 1892 – 27 September 1972) was a mathematician and librarian from India. His most notable contributions to the field were his five laws of library science and the development of the first major analytico-synthetic classification system, the colon classification. He is considered to be the father of library science, documentation, and information science in India and is widely known throughout the rest of the world for his fundamental thinking in the field. His birthday is observed every year as the National Library Day in India.

He was a university librarian and professor of library science at Banaras Hindu University (1945–47) and professor of library science at the University of Delhi (1947–55). The last appointment made him director of the first Indian school of librarianship to offer higher degrees. He was president of the Indian Library Association from 1944 to 1953. In 1957 he was elected an honorary member of the International Federation for Information and Documentation (FID) and was made a vice-president for life of the Library Association of Great Britain. The Government of India awarded Padmashri to Dr. S.R. Ranganathan in 1957 for valuable contributions to Library Science.
